BABA'S BIRTHDAY. 1960.

Dearest Boss,

Marj, Emmy, Judy, and the writer, Hope you are having a wonderful Baba-Birthday today.

Emmy got the afternoon and evening off, Marj. gave herself a similar holiday, and Judy & I, as you know, were also given the day off. We have had a happy time at the flat, packing li mad... Stay With God, of course. Ella's last order from you (List K - Feb.12th.) and your last Indian private order list of Jan.27th.) are ready to go and the Pak.1 list is well on t way. However, I will notify you again re these despatches, sneaking in a further business bit to say we have NOT sent th USA Review copies yet; and also to ask did you not mean to pu an "Orders can be f/d. to...." or some such on the new leaf draft of which you sent Rob. & me ?

To continue our greeting letter :

Marj says : She is still as dumb as ever and can't think of much to say, but she reads your book as a morning ritual every day, and hopes you will find some improvement, if and when you return; meanwhile she sends her dearest love to her beloved teacher.

Judith says : To give you her love, and how blessed we are to be able to spend this day in this way.

Emmy says : How happy she is to be joining in The Work, and her love and congratulations to you that you are with Baba at this time. (and Judy chipped in to add " she is green with meaning herself, Judy is)

We are now going to have a bit of cha and then all going down to the Hill where we are hoping Bill has a lovely long letter from you to read to us.

By now, we fervently hope, our gift to Baba has arrived. Apart from our hopes of Beloved's pleasure in this, and that He will Himself eat at least a few of the contentswe are also speculating with glee on your reactions to the sight of the £9 odd worth of stamps on the wrapping!!!! There is no such thing as freight rate for parcels (custom clearance at port by addressee etc. & no onforwarding) but we would have had great fun in chartering a special plane had this been possible or necessary in order to have it there on time.

The box itself was the largest one made by the Sanitarium and the very best available, packed that morning to order. We hope you liked it too, and were all very thrilled to have had your wonderful idea.

The card was made at Avatar's Abode, by just whom we do not know, but we all thought it was beautiful.

Much love, dearest Boss,

Anadi
Margorie
Emmy
Judith
