My Dear John,

Thank you for your letter stating confusion of the copies of "Notes" to me, and which have been repeated.

I originally think that you could not have hit upon a better title than "Notes" as given to yourself in the case - think you are really moving up the contents - and at the same time recall the typical Western reaction to a word like "Notes".

So long as "Notes" is not considered it is always better, I think, to use a word which has universal recognition for the intended reader than a direct word with his connotation and direct - never wanting.

I would be glad if you will send me copy of January 1961 issue direct to each of the following names.

- 1) Miss Joyce ...
201 Lilly Road, Franklin 2, Pa., Newark, Indiana.
- 2) Dr. Robert ...
John ...
- 3) Dr. J. ...
7-10 ...
- 4) Dr. ...
...
- 5) Dr. ...
...
- 6) Dr. ...
...
- 7) Dr. ...
...

I enclose the 2.50 in Feb. 1961. I would be glad if you would please pay for each "Notes" per request. Thanks, and please also send back to the review in connection.

Sincerely,
John ...
